Merging business insight with technical expertise

We build the simplest, clearest, and most intuitive solutions for your business needs

It's often said that if your only tool is a hammer, every problem looks like a nail. Analysis Factory is an acclaimed industry leader in Xcelsius (SAP Crystal Dashboard Design) programming, but our toolbox is brimming with powerful tools – including MS Silverlight, Fusion Charts, and Roambi – to build the right solution for each client. We also deliver a wide range of SAP BusinessObjects Enterprise infrastructure services to address unique SAP BusinessObjects deployment requirements.

Introducing Roambi

Roambi is a mobile app that transforms your existing business reports from most popular data sources into secure, interactive dashboards instantly delivered to any iPhone or iPad.

Our data visualizations show you where you're going as well as where you've been.

"Our biggest challenge in a Flight Test environment is having data available in real-time. Analysis Factory helped us focus on the data that was relevant to our organization and produce world-class dashboards to make decisions in real-time. These guys are the best thing since hypersonic flight."

Michael T. VanMeter - Head Real Time Telemetry System

"Analysis Factory has been the difference maker in our ability to deliver interactive dashboards that our customers truly value. But they did not just build the dashboards. They worked with us on the overall ideation in our beginning phases. Without Analysis Factory, our business would never have grown from zero customers to over 50 in less than one year."

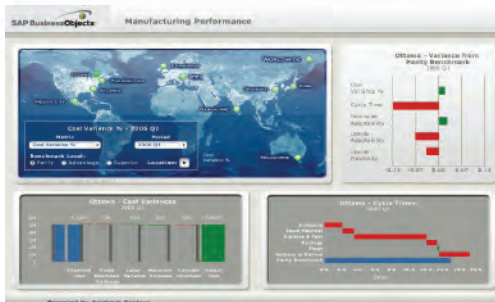

Bill Schaffler - CFO/CAO People Report

- Powerful
- Intuitive
- Clear
- Actionable

Every business has a story to tell. For ten years, Analysis Factory consultants have used the power of technology to support, structure, measure and manage the narratives of our clients' businesses. Analysis Factory dashboards are tracking accounts receivable for construction companies, monitoring oil well production, keeping budgets for small private schools under control, and reporting data for several branches of the U.S. Military.

With a broad range of expertise in diverse technologies, the Analysis Factory team of expert data visualization consultants has a long track record of building powerful, cost effective business solutions for a wide variety of industries in both the private and public sectors.

The Analysis Factory team are nationally recognized leaders in building Xcelsius dashboards. Why? Our philosophy of building a dashboard is simple: every dashboard must be actionable. In designing each dashboard, we ask:

"If this dashboard is successful, what will it enable our client to do...see...monitor...understand...identify...predict?"

That's how we build dashboards that drive business decisions.
